

The map is a detailed topographic representation of a rural area in France. It features three concentric perimeter zones centered on Plancy-l'Abbaye, marked with a star and the word 'PROJET'. The zones are labeled 'Périmètre éloigné', 'Périmètre rapproché', and 'Périmètre immédiat'. The map includes numerous contour lines indicating elevation, with values ranging from 78 to 93 meters. Various place names are scattered throughout, including Beauchamp, la Chardonnière, St-Victor, les Prés, and Rhéges-Bessy. Roads and paths are shown as dashed lines, and the Aube river is visible in the lower right. The map also shows several small settlements and farms, such as la Bachot and les Grandes Corvees.
